ECONOMICS CLUB DRAWS BIG CROWD

Dr. Leacock Speaks of Club's Growth

PAPERS READ

N. Reich and D. Everett Delivered Interesting Address

Nearly one hundred members were present at the opening assembly of the Political Economy Club held last night in the Arts Building, and chairs had to be placed outside the room to take care of the overflow. A large number of the old members were present, while many new faces could be seen.

As Gordon, Naime, the president of the club, was unable to be present the Vice-President, Eugene Fossey, occupied the chair.

Dr. Stephen Leacock was first called upon to address the meeting. He recalled the salad days of the Political Economy Club when it was green in judgment and reborn on its birth just a decade ago. Pictures of the officers of the club since 1915 were shown by him to the members and the need for a suitable place for them was stressed.

Two papers were prepared for the evening on the subject of the "Political Issues in Great Britain." The first paper to be read was that of D. Everett, who spoke from a conservative viewpoint.

In his paper, the speaker stressed the need for a strong Conservative Government at the present time, and pointed out the inefficiency of the present Labor Party. The "Red Plot," which has been attracting such notice at the present time, especially in the face of the present British elections, was dwelt upon by Everett, and used to illustrate some of the arguments set forth.

At a time when unity is so much desired in the British Navy, the withdrawal from Singapore as a naval base was severely criticised, and the probable effect on Australia was deplored. Although the speaker expressed his approval of the pacifistic ideas of Premier MacDonald, he pointed out the need of having a united British Navy to back up arbitration, if necessary.

The gift of a costly motor car to the Premier by a member of the capitalist class did not escape the criticism of Everett, and formed a strong link in the chain of charges brought up against the opposition.

In the second paper of the evening on the Political Issues in Great Britain, Mr. Reich was called to the floor. His treatment of the subject differed from that of the preceding speaker, inasmuch as he treated the two political parties as two ideals, or viewpoints, rather than a matter of questionable treaties, or questionable gifts. The main ideas embodied in the platforms of the two parties were compared, and the advantages of Labor Government pointed out. Reich expressed his sorrow that the subject such as was being treated should come at the eve of the elections, the reason being that clear thinking was difficult during the period of pre-election excitement.

PRINCETON STUDENTS RAID KU KLUX KLAN IN COLLEGE GROUNDS

Fifteen miles north of Princeton, at Zaretha, a small institution called Alma College, presided over by a renegade Bishop and prophetess, the learned Dr. Bishop Alma White, founder of the sect of the "Pillar of Fire."

Last year the prophetess prophesied concerning Princeton: "For Princeton to try to remain indifferent to the Ku Klux Klan—if indeed it is trying to—is for Princeton to revolve, dissolved in her own little eddy of oblivion, while the rising tide of the freest moral and political movement of the generation sweeps by."

The other day the tide swept irresistibly toward obscure Princeton. The action occurred in front of the Baltimore Dairy Lunch. The Ku Klux Klan advanced within, and received a "rousing welcome" from the Princeton undergraduate body.

Undergraduates poured into the street at the first sign of the hooded order. A long line of cars carrying Kings, Klondikes, and Knights, said the "Princetonian," found the going rough.

BARON BYNG PATRON OF MUSIC CLUB

Many Prominent People Will Be Present at Burke Recital

TICKET SALE GOOD

Burke's Recent Concert in New York is Happy

The Governor General of Canada, Baron Byng of Vimy, has extended his patronage to the recital which the McGill Music Club is holding in the St. Denis Theatre on November 17, at which Edmund Burke, the famous bass-baritone, will sing.

The prominent personages on the list of patrons for the Burke Recital are the names of Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec, the Honorable Narcisse Pérodeau, the premier of Quebec, the Honorable A. L. Taschereau, E. M. Beatty, president of the C. P. R., and Sir Arthur and Lady Currie. Several hundred prominent Montrealsers have also become patrons of the concert.

The concert already shows signs of being a success. The advance sale of tickets has as yet been quite up to the most sanguine expectations of those in charge of the concert and with the night of the recital the whole house may be sold out. The prices of the tickets range from 50 cents to $2.50.

The McGill Music Club is certainly the first Canadian, and possibly the first of the American college musical societies to undertake the promoting of a concert at which a world-famous singer will perform. Nearly every university of any importance on the continent, however, has an organization devoted to serious music. Most of these are in happier circumstances than the McGill Classical Musical Club has been in the past. It was to remedy this state of affairs and to place the Music Club at McGill on a comfortable basis that the executive decided to stage the forthcoming recital. The funds obtained from the recital will be used to buy a concert grand piano and to outfit the club rooms in the Union.

A few days ago Edmund Burke gave the first of two concerts at which he is singing in New York. The New York critics and the musical public of New York were much impressed and the newspapers made pleasant comments on his return to New York after his recent holiday in Europe. Mr. Burke is scheduled to give a concert in both Quebec and Montreal. His appearance here under the auspices of the McGill Music Club will be the only recital to mill give in Montreal this year.

After the conclusion of the papers, refreshments were served, and a lively discussion was held.

Among those present at the meeting were Professor Basil Williams, Professor Farthing, Dr. J. P. Day, Dr. J. C. Hemmon and Miss Macdonald, an extension lecturer from the Old country now investigating social problems in Canada.

A Trip To Kingston For $ 9.20

Nine dollars and twenty cents will buy a train ticket to Kingston and return. A considerable number of students have already taken advantage of this low rate, but the necessary hundred mark is not yet reached. These train tickets are on sale at the Union Tuck Shop. It should be clearly understood that if a hundred tickets are not sold and consequently the proposed special train does not run, those who have already procured the special rate tickets may travel to Kingston on any one of the passenger trains.

In the event of arrangements for a special train being impossible it is probable that a special car may be reserved for the McGill travellers.

One hundred and fifty seats at the Queen's stadium have been reserved for McGill men. These are being sold at the Union Tuck Shop at the rate of one dollar and a half each.

The students in Medicine are conducting a series of pools. Already nine men have been provided with tickets for the Queen's trip in this manner. It is expected that other faculties will follow the example.

Early application for reserved seats and for train tickets will facilitate arrangements being made by the Students' Council.

All tickets should be procured at the Union in order that the exact number of those who will make the trip may be ascertained.

It has not been definitely decided what time the special train will leave. The time that best suits the convenience of the majority will be chosen.

The return journey will start in the early hours of Sunday morning. This makes it possible for McGill visitors to attend a dance at Queen's, Saturday night.

"On to Kingston."

UNION HOUSE MEMBERS TO BE ELECTED

Voting Will Take Place From 9 till 5 O'clock

THREE ACCLAMATIONS

Dentistry, Arts and Science Representatives To Be Chosen

Voting to elect the members for the Union House Committee in the faculties of Dentistry, Arts and Science will take place from 9 till 5 o'clock today. The members to represent the faculties of Law, Medicine and Commerce have already been elected by acclamation. Angus Oddy has been selected by the Faculty of Law; R. V. Hayes will be the representative of Commerce; while W. S. Abey and Dunc McQuig are the two members for Medicine.

Today the elections will be held by ballot in the other three faculties. In Science there are five candidates of which two are to be selected. These five men are L. W. Bladen, A. F. Branscombe, J. S. Webster, H. T. Arrey and F. E. Winter.

In the Faculties of Arts and Dentistry there have been two nominations for each member to represent his faculty. In Arts R. C. (Dick) Brown and D. R. Logan have been nominated; while in Dentistry the two men are Rosenberg and R. A. Comeau.

Four men altogether have to be elected tomorrow, and as three have already been chosen, the Committee will be known by tonight.

It is expected that all the members of the faculties of Dentistry, Arts and Science will turn out tomorrow to vote for their member on the Committee.

The work of this Committee is to look after the management of the Union and everything that takes place there. All the meetings, smokers, dances, dinners, etc. in the Union have to be arranged and supervised by the Union House Committee, so that the necessity for the election of the most capable has been realized.

The Union really belongs to every student at the college and it can only be kept up if each undergraduate does his part to help in its maintenance.

In view of all this a record poll is expected today.

Yerba Mate

Yerba mate is a plant from which a beverage is brewed much like tea and yet quite different in many particulars. It is consumed largely in South America, where it is grown and shipped to all parts of the world. It may be drunk by persons who cannot drink tea, and yet it has some of the stimulating qualities of tea. Feuds, and even international wars, have been waged on account of this plant. The warriors' efforts being in the direction of securing certain secrets regarding its cultivation and preparation which have been held sacred by those who have them.—Cincinnati Bearcat.

FRESHMEN CAUGHT HAZING SOPHS WERE HAZING THEMSELVES

The Sophomore Class of the School of Commerce of New York University again proved their superiority over the Freshmen, when a handful of Sophs broke up a Fresh hazing party, a prominent Soph being the "goat" of the hazers.

The party began when about fifty Fresh found a Soph on Waverly. They rushed upon him and pushed him into a cab, but not before the Soph put up a fight in which a cab window was broken, and his leg cut.

The Fresh took the Soph to the St. Vincent Hospital, where a stitch was put in his leg.

From here the Fresh hazed their victim in the well-known ways, included amongst these was a speech by the Soph on his favorite candidate. He spoke on the Davis-Smith platform before more than a thousand people.

They then took him up to the Public Library at Forty-second Street where he was about to mount the statue of the Hon. when like a thunder

PROMINENT U. OF M. MAN IN GUN-PLAY

Ethier President of Universite Athletic Association in Hospital

SHOT IN ARM

Victim was Waiting for a Friend at Dixie Golf Club

Joseph Ethier, President of the Athletic Association of the University of Montreal, had an unfortunate experience last Monday evening. Ethier, who has represented the U. of M. at many McGill functions, was the unfortunate victim of an unexpected hold-up. Unfortunately, the thief escaped with all his victim's valuables, also wounding him twice in the left arm and once in the right.

While waiting on a sidewalk near Dixie for a friend to return from the Golf Club, Ethier saw a man approaching along the deserted road, but took no notice of him. On coming alongside of the car, the thief produced a gun and demanded all his valuables. Naturally, Ethier complied with the request, even volunteering to throw in his watch for good measure. For various reasons, however, this kind offer was refused.

After the thief had left him, the victim followed, and finally passed him in his car.

Jumping out ahead with a run which he had taken from one of the side pockets of his car, Ethier endeavored to turn the tables. Unfortunately, his run refused to work, and the hold-up man shot him twice in the left arm. When the Montreal youth turned, another bullet hit him in the right arm.

Ethier is now recovering at the Royal Victoria Hospital, and he has the sympathy and good wishes of his many friends at McGill.

ins in scientific circles than the tone in which the orthodox physicists comment on the report from Germany of the turning of mercury into gold. A few years ago no real scientist would have had the patience to dignify such claims even to the extent of denying them, says the New York Times.

The difference between the elements then was held to be essential difference separates any so-called element from any of the others, and to claims of transmutation the answer is "Not impossible!"

The old assumptions as to the indestructibility of matter and the conservation of energy—they, too, have fallen upon evil days, and the respect that used to be there has waned to next to nothing. Yet science need not confess fallibility, since it never asserted infallibility. The old hypotheses fitted all of the known facts of their day and they met the pragmatic test—they worked.

It is said of Herbert Spencer that his idea of a tragedy was the overthrowing of a beautiful hypothesis by an ugly fact. In these days no horror at all and not even disquietude is caused by such happenings.

MONTREAL, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1924.

THE CONVERSAT

An event representative of the services which the S.C.A. renders, and which is perhaps the best known because it is more spectacular than most of the Association's work, takes place to-night when the annual Conversat is held in Strathcona Hall.

Designed to offset the many obstacles that obstruct the newcomer's entrance into the social life of the University, the enterprise has come to exceed the fondest expectations of its originators if we may judge by the excellent patronage which it commands.

Who has not upon entering a strange institution for the first time, felt a certain chill, a lack of sympathy or cordiality which restricts self-expression, which drives a student to morbid introspection and ultimate self-ostracism, has no place in any university worthy of the name. We admit that the larger the institution, the more cosmopolitan its constitution, the more does a newcomer find it difficult to insinuate himself into the social life of its members. Despite the proverbial bonhomie of college students, one cannot just walk up to a stranger and command an introduction without violating the unwritten law, and exposing himself to the various methods of enforcement apt to be practised by its proponents. But every rule has its exception, and in this case it is supplied by the Conversat, which, assuming becoming conduct, lowers the bars of an obstructing social conventionality. Here then everyone is accepted at his or her face value (this is allegorical of course, because one of the attractions of the Conversat is the opportunity it affords to get beyond superficialities). Conversational intercourse is made possible, nay, made almost obligatory by the solicitous officials in charge.

For the one who seeks a cheerful distraction to the oppressiveness of prolonged study, or perhaps seeks to drive off an impending attack of homesickness; for any and all who would enjoy the genial hospitality of Strathcona Hall,—we recommend the Conversat.

CONDENSED COMMENT

The attendance at the Political Economy Club meeting held last night was the largest in ten years. It is gratifying to note a reawakening, on the part of the students, of an interest in a study that is of world importance. Though the British elections were less than twenty-four hours away at the time, the merits of the two chief parties, Conservative and Labour, were discussed in a cool dispassionate way. The discussions clearly showed that students are not entirely apathetic to what is going on in the outside world.

SOCIETE FRANCAISE PROGRAMME BEGUN

M. de Verneuil, French Consul to Give Address

The Societe Francaise will have the privilege of hearing an address by M. de Verneuil, the French consul in Montreal, at its organization gathering for the session which is to be held to-morrow at 4 o'clock in the R. V. C. Common Room.

The programme is a varied one, and is sure to be of interest to everyone. First year students particularly are urged to attend.

M. de Verneuil is well known as a lecturer, and as an author, and it is expected that many will avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing him.

The programme will also include a medley of French Canadian pieces played by Miss E. Frey and Miss K. Perrin, and an amusing game in which all those present may participate. Tea will be served at the close of the meeting.

All R. V. C. students are invited to attend the meetings of the Societe Francaise. Those who wish to become active members are asked to pay a fee of fifty cents to the treasurer of the society.

This entitles them to special privileges such as that of attending the theatre parties which the Societe conducts from time to time when there are good French plays in Montreal.

The purpose of the Societe Francaise is to stimulate an interest in French at R. V. C. and the meetings are always entertaining as well as valuable to anyone wishing to improve her knowledge of French.

Federated Charities Campaign

Theodore Morgan, vice-chairman of the Campaign Committee of the Federated Charities, gave a special interview to a daily reporter last night in connection with the Federation Campaign, which commences Oct. 31. Mr. Morgan has been associated with the Federation since its inception, and for two years has been Chairman of the St. Andrews District, which last year won the challenge cup which goes to the district exceeding its objective by the highest percentage.

"I have always been interested in McGill's activities in this Campaign," said Mr. Morgan, "for the first Campaign, Dr. Porter's eleven-hour organization nearly wrecked my chance of reaching my objective in St. Andrews, and last year, even when McGill was made a separate Division, Dr. Porter's tentacles reached out into my district with excellent results for the Campaign."

"You want me to explain Federation in a few words, well, that is not easy, but here is the sum and substance of the idea. You know that McGill University now has a Department called the Training School for Social Workers, and another for training nurses for public health work. These schools in part provide workers for the 30 social agencies comprising the Federation group. Here they are, and here is the amount of money they require:—

Big Brother Association	$1,525
Boys' Home of Montreal	9,000
Boys' Welfare Association	2,500
Bremer Rest	3,100
Can. Prisoners' Welfare Ass.	2,700
Child Welfare Association	26,777
Children's Bureau	29,148
Daily Vacation Bible Schools	4,000
Day Nursery	6,500
Diet Dispensary	7,596
Epileptic Institute	21,500
Family Welfare Association	95,373
Griffintown Club	7,624
Girls' Cottage Industrial Sch.	10,740
Industrial Rooms	3,530
Infants' Home	11,456
Ivey Settlement	9,500
Ladies' Benevolent School	10,000
Mental Hygiene Committee	18,852
Mtl. Council of Soc. Agencies	11,151
Murray Bay Convalescent Home	3,340
Orphans' Home	4,500
Park and Playgrounds Assn.	14,260
Sheltering Home	3,423
Soc. Protection of Women and Children	10,110
University Settlement	15,000
V. O. N. Montreal	63,664
V. O. N. Westmount	7,953
Women's Directory	12,000
Y. W. C. A.	35,000

You can see for yourself that they cover a variety of human needs, and are not just a higgledy-piggledy group of unimportant charities. On the contrary, each has its own appointed place in the social machinery of this big city.

In the early days of the City, when social life and social problems were less complex and the charities less in number, their financing was a comparatively simple matter. Just a few hundred well-to-do people kept them going, each having its special group of supporters; but now things are different, these thirty agencies in Federation represent a large part of the social work of the City, they are the expression of the Community, sense of responsibility to those of its citizens, whom misfortune overtakes, or whom environment places at a disadvantage. The Social Settlements and the Playgrounds Association for instance try to offset the disadvantage of crowded tenements and congested streets.

Up to three years ago, these 30 agencies had been content to continue the old methods of finance. They found themselves tumbling over each other in competition for the beneficence of a few hundred very generous citizens, whose patience was becoming exhausted by reason of the incessant calls upon them.

Central financing through an annual Campaign has proved a success in war time charities; the adoption of the method for the annual requirements of peace-time organizations was a natural and easy procedure. In 1922, the first Federated Charities Campaign raised $406,000 for the 1922 needs of 27 agencies. In this Campaign for the 1923 needs of 30 agencies, $465,000 is the objective.

Every man, woman and child in the city who has more than enough for his actual needs is being asked to give some portion of that surplus for the needs of those who have not enough for even a minimum standard of living, and for those who are sick.

I am confident that McGill University Division will reach its objective of $8,600, and I shall not be surprised if they reach the $10,000 mark."

SENIORS PERFECT THEIR OFFENSIVE

Stiff Signal Practice at Stadium Yesterday

Some new and runs were tried out and perfected by the senior rugby squad yesterday when the men were given a stiff signal practice at the Stadium. For a time Team B lined up in the Queen's formation and put up strong opposition to the regulars.

Every man of the first team was in uniform and the squad should be at full strength when it faces the tri-colour in Kingston. Little's hand did not seem to be giving him any trouble while Manson, although he took things easy, was on hand and is expected to be in good shape Saturday.

Mackay of the Juniors was given a chance to do some drop-kicking. He was a little nervous yesterday but when he has had more experience with opponents charging him may make the grade into higher company, where a good drop-kicker is badly needed.

McGill's end-runs weren't getting away at all last week but it is expected that things will be different in Kingston as Coach Shaughnessy is drilling his men hard in this department of their attack. The players say they are going to beat the Presbyterians and after the way they went in that last game they have a good chance of turning the trick.

Every man of the senior, intermediate and junior squad is expected to turn out to-day's practice at 4 o'clock.

MISS REID SPOKE TO SOCIAL WORKERS

Address on "Social Work as a Profession"

The activities of the Undergraduate Society of the School for Social Workers were resumed this session, when the society held a meeting and tea last Friday.

The first part of the meeting was of a purely business nature, the question of Society fees and Daily fees was discussed and a programme and refreshments committee were formed. Miss Mary Coughlin was elected refreshment convener, and Miss Marjorie Bremner, the programme convener. The executive of the Society consists of Miss Given Oliver, president; Mr. Wylie, vice-president; Miss Barr, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Mildred Richards, Daily Reporter.

The guest of honour was Miss Reid, Personal Service Secretary of the Council of Social Agencies and Field Work Supervisor of the McGill School for Social Workers. The meeting was also honoured by the presence of Miss Gnaedinger, Dr. Dawson and Dr. Gettys.

Miss Reid gave a very interesting talk on "Social Work as a Profession" in which she pointed out that though everyone cannot reach the ideal, yet it should be held before one constantly, shedding its light over every action. In closing her address, Miss Reid appealed to the meeting to be Christians; to be men and women and to be Social Workers.

CORRESPONDENCE

The Daily is not responsible for sentiments of letters published in the correspondence columns. Signed communications from graduates, undergraduates and members of the faculties will be placed in print if they are not too great length.

Correspondents are requested to observe the unwritten law of the newspaper office — that they write upon ONE SIDE OF THE PAPER ONLY.

No communication will be admitted in this column without the name of the writer being attached, not necessarily for PUBLICATION.

The Editor,

McGill Daily,

Dear Sir:—This is not an attempt on my part to endeavour to prolong the storm which is gathering around Mr. Duckworth's letter for the fun of doing so, but rather an attempt to emphasize his stand—which is no doubt the stand of the majority of students—that such humour as exhibited last Saturday is a disgrace to the college. I am not referring to the first part of the act staged, which was indeed humorous and showed clever thought on the part of those who arranged it. It is the final scene live of $8,600, and I shall not be surprised if they reach the $10,000 mark."

VARSIITY ENTERS FOR MCTIER CUP

McGill Plays Montreal Saturday on Campus

The English Rugby team played Varsity last Saturday, but last, Word has now come in that Varsity was entered for the McTier cup.

Although the McGill English Rugby Team lost both the intercollegiate games against Varsity, the brand of football displayed by the Red and White was very excellent on both occasions.

The Varsity team is a very sound one, and appeared to have the advantage over McGill in most departments of the game. Their front rank is exceedingly strong, and their rear division for the most part overshadowed the McGill backs.

Varsity have entered their team for the McTier Cup contest. This fall, and if they succeed in defeating the Toronto City Team, they will again journey to Montreal, and play the winners of the game down here. This match will be played between McGill and Montreal next Saturday on the Campus, and the winner will meet Varsity in the Finals.

The cup was held by McGill last season, and a great effort will be made to hold the cup again this year.

The game seems to be flourishing at the Toronto University, and it receives a good deal of support from the undergraduate body and the athletic impagement. This has proved a great help to the game, as has the granting of four colours to members of the team last season, and also the supplying of all rugby equipment to the Club.

Varsity intend to send their team to the Maritime Provinces next year, if possible, and this adventure should meet with considerable success.

The McGill Team received several challenges from teams in the East this year, but it was not found possible to accept them.

Should both McGill and Varsity prove successful in their games against the town team, they will meet again in Montreal before the season is finished.

DIFFERENCES OF RACES DISCUSSED

The Maccabean Study Group, inaugurated at the first meeting of the Circle, convened at the home of Otto Klineberg last night to hold their first discussion.

Before the regular discussion began the program for the year was gone over. A dozen different subjects have been chosen and at meetings which are to be held once in every two weeks one of these will be discussed. A different subject was allotted to various of the members who will give a brief discourse on it at the beginning of each gathering, after which it will be discussed by all. This plan was forwarded by Otto Klineberg, the organizer of the group and was approved. After these arrangements had been made, discussion on the subject for the evening, "Racial Differences" was begun, by Otto Klineberg giving a general and interesting view of it.

There were, he said, two theories prevalent in regard to Racial Differences; the first was the relation of the traces to the Simian tree; the second the effect of environment. The first theory was quite badly shattered by scientific research. It claimed that the black race was most closely related to the monkey, then the yellow and furthest away the white. One of the reasons given was that the skull of the black was thick like that of the monkey; another that its jaw was similarly massive. These so called proofs were blasted by the fact that the black has thick lips, whereas those of the monkey are exceedingly thin, as also are those of the white. Another reverse is encountered in the fact that the white is far more hairy than the black. These things would seem to show that the white race is just as closely related to the monkey as the black.

The stress of environment was also discussed. The blackness of skin, accepted by some to be caused by environment, would seem to be biologically untrue; the germ cell which transmit characteristics being unchanged by environment. Experimentally acquired characteristics failed to be transmitted. The case of the rats, whose tails were amputated was cited to prove this.

The subject proved to be interesting and without limits and often-times lengthy digressions were made, which, although side tracks of the main subject were very educating.

EMBRYO PUGILISTS LOOK PROMISING

Freshman Competition to Be Held Soon

The boxing season in the University officially opened yesterday when twenty-five students of the manly art gathered in Molson's Hall gymnasium under the tutelage of Mr. Robinson. As this was the first practice held this year, the coach was well satisfied with the turn-out. While a large majority of those present were freshmen, several second and third year men were present at the work-out. Very little actual boxing took place, the larger part of the time being spent in limbering up and in going through a series of leg exercises. Some shadow-boxing was put on, but aside from this, no other technical work was indulged in.

In consideration of the large number of freshmen who have shown an interest in boxing this year, Mr. Robinson has already formulated plans for freshman competition. Although no arrangements have been made as yet, it is hoped that it will be found possible to stage the competitions in the latter part of next week.

FENCERS IN NEED OF INSTRUCTOR

Many Men Are Now Signing Up

The fencing Club held a large and enthusiastic practice at 5 p. m. yesterday in the Strathcona Hall. The membership at the present time is nearly fifty, and more new and old men are still joining up.

As yet, the club is suffering from the lack of an instructor. This combined with the difficulty in procuring equipment, has tended to hinder the club's activities. The shortage of equipment, such as foils, due to the fact that the Sporting Goods Stores have not been carrying them in stock, will be remedied within a few days. As far as a coach is concerned, nothing definite is known, but it is assumed that one will be on hand within a short time. With these handicaps surmounted, the Club will be away for a great season. In the absence of an instructor, every old member has been asked to sign immediately in order to help out the new men and get things running smoothly.

It is now planned to hold pools every Saturday afternoon. In these pools, each member is to meet every other member. Points gained in victory will count for rewards which will be given out at the end of the season. This plan is calculated to stimulate and keep up an active interest throughout the year.

C.O.T.C. RUGBY CLUB HAS BEEN ORGANIZED

The C.O.T.C. football club met last night for organization at the Corps' headquarters. The interest shown by those present was such that the club will no doubt be a very successful one. This enterprise is a new one for the Cadet Officers, as they have never had a football team. This year's aggregation will be composed of very good men, most of them having played football before. As it is rather late for them to join the various leagues, they will only play in exhibition games. The first one will probably be against Macdonald College. A practice for the team will be held shortly.

ROLAND HAYES TO SING AT ST. DENIS

First Appearance of Famous Tenor in Montreal

Montreal is to have, for the first time, the opportunity of hearing the distinguished negro tenor, Roland Hayes. On Friday October 31st, this famous singer will appear in a well balanced programme at the St. Denis Theatre. The fact that Montreal is highly interested in Mr. Hayes has been exhibited by the rush for seats which has already taken place.

Roland Hayes is an American having been born at Curryville, Ga. He showed an aptitude for singing at an early age, and soon began to attract attention. He later studied under Mr. Arthur J. Hubbard, and gave recitals in Jordan Hall, until his departure for Europe in 1920. The following year he was commanded to sing before the King and Queen of England.

Early this spring Mr. Hayes started out on his fourth European Tour, which included fifteen recitals in London and eight in France. Besides these, he appeared twice in Vienna, and twenty-four times in Budapest, Prague and various other cities of Czechoslovakia and Hungary. In October, he will commence his second tour of America.

Roland Hayes has been particularly well received wherever he has been heard, and there is little doubt that his success will be repeated in Montreal.

His performance in this city is under the management of Mr. Louis Bourne, who has arranged that the tickets sell at popular prices. The seats prices range from one dollar to two dollars and fifty cents, and many students have already booked their places.

ARTS TEAM READY TO MEET COMMERCE TO-DAY

The Arts Interfaculty Rugby Team held their final workout yesterday afternoon for the game with Commerce today.

The team indulged in a light signal drill, and all the players appear in excellent shape for the important fixture this afternoon. The Arts players realize that they will have to beat Commerce in order to remain in the running, and they intend to do their utmost to score a win against their old rivals.

Several new plays were practised during the afternoon and these should be very effective in the remaining games. Very little fumbling was in evidence in the execution of the various plays, and the Commerce Team will find themselves up against stiff opposition when the two teams meet.

Walsh, Gammell, Bourne, and, in fact, every member of the team, appear in excellent condition for the fray, and a large turnout of spectators will undoubtedly be on hand to encourage the two teams in their efforts this afternoon.

LITERARY SOCIETY PLANS IMPROVEMENTS

The executive of the Literary and Debating Society are holding a meeting in the Union at five o'clock this afternoon, with the object of making plans for a more energetic literary programme and also to arrange a debate with Cornell, to be held on November 22nd.

It has also been pointed out that the "Literary" side of society has, till the present time, not been emphasized enough. To remedy this, it is intended to make arrangements whereby members may present papers at special meetings of the Society.

FOR THE UNION HOUSE COMMITTEE

SIMPLE SIMON'S SUBTLE SCHEMES TO SEE STRUGGLE

Next to the question of who will win the game on Saturday, the most important problem now troubling the usually serene undergraduate mind is how to get to Kingston to view the struggle. Of course if your father is a landlord or manufacturer chewing gum, the answer is simplicity itself. You go to the railway company and merely hand out a bit of cash and the engineer, conductor and other impolite officials do the rest. In legal parlance it is called paying your fare. This little affair however is likely to run into money and lacking such the problem assumes serious proportions. It was this aspect that prompted the writer to devise some other plan to cover the gap between Kingston and himself. They are set down below in the hope that they may prove useful to any other eager undergraduate in the same fix.

The first method that presents itself to the ordinary student is that of "bumming" the way. However, the experience of two enthusiasts who resorted to this method on the Toronto trip seems to have dampened the enthusiasm of the rest. After all a goal is a cold place even in this delightful weather. However, if anyone has any friends in that organization known as the United Hoboes of America, it might be well to interview that gentleman before attempting anything so drastic. But it must be remembered the business is dusty at the best and we would advise some other means if convenient.

There is one excellent plan that if carried out well is bound to succeed. However the carrying out seems to be the most serious difficulty. This consists in walking behind the conductor wherever he goes and thus avoiding detection. Precautions should be taken about keeping the conductor from leaning up against anything, particularly yourself. It has been successfully done in the movies; though is a poor guarantee of success during an actual trial. We do not advise this method except as a last resort.

MUSICIANS TO ACCOMPANY TEAM

McGill Band Will Play At Kingston

All the members of the McGill Band will meet at 5 o'clock to-day at the Union. It has been definitely decided that the musicians will accompany the football team to Kingston next Friday. Those who heard the band at the McGill Queens game on Saturday can truthfully say that it by far surpasses any band McGill has ever had. They marched around the field and played like true professionals, and were of great service in leading the cheering. The innovation of a regulation uniform has been a decided improvement in this year's band. It has been said that McGill men attending the game at Kingston this Saturday will feel a thrill of pride when the old band parades around the field in its red and white again.

REPRESENTATIVES ON ANNUAL BOARD

Preparations are now made in regards to the 1925 Annual. This week representatives from the Junior years of all faculties will be elected to the Annual Board, which will begin work on the 1926 publication without delay.

The Annual is fundamentally the Juniors Book, as it contains the pictures of the Juniors of all faculties and their histories. However it is something that proves interesting to men from all years. The 1925 edition number of the annual was one of the finest ever edited and every effort will be made this year to surpass it.

It is necessary that these elections be completed before Saturday Nov. 1. All names must also be handed in to Ted Newton, president of the Union House Committee. The number of men to be chosen from the different faculties will be found in the notice column.

"My dear, where did your wonder string of pearls come from? You don't mind my asking, do you?"

"Certainly not! They came from oysters."

JAZZ
TEA
To-Morrow

One might disguise oneself as a suitcase, or better still draw one's feet up under one's overcoat until they cannot be seen and do the same thing with one's head and have some friend hang him up on the hook. This too is apt to prove rather tiresome as the trip is rather over a five hour one. There is the stunt of hiding under the seat but precautions should be taken not to lie too near a spittoon. One might also ride on the roof without danger of being unceremoniously swept off the train, for it is a well known fact that there are no tunnels between Montreal and Kingston. It is well to note that the Honeymoon Special runs in the Rocky Mountains. Riding on the roof is apt to prove dangerous unless the traveller suffers from insomnia. One might hide in coal in the tender, or better still if he is a member of the polo team in the water tank. On second thought there are any number of nooks and corners on a locomotive where one might seclude himself, although we do not vouch for his comfort.

Another excellent plan is to crate yourself up and have yourself shipped to Kingston by Dominion Express. It will cost something but does not come near the regular robbery for passage. Be careful who you mark the package, for if it is labelled "Inflammable matter" or "glass, handle with care" you may find your hiding place opened by the dry agents.

If you are a red hot fan borrow a bicycle and if you do not mind riding on the rims you will probably get to Kingston before the score-board is taken down. So would not advise the use of tricycles or coasters. Thus it can be seen that there is no earthly reason why there should not be what the Kingstonians call a "bumper" crowd of Red and White noses at the Queens game.

ROWING PRACTICES BEING ARRANGED

Excursion For Club Members On Saturday

A temporary schedule has been arranged for practice hours for members of the University Rowing Club. Every man has been notified that it will be necessary to be on hand in the attic of the Union on the day and hour stated.

These hours will be printed in the Daily as they are arranged. The schedule for to-day is as follows:—

3-4 p.m.
Kirby,
Mackenzie,
Ping,
Wilkinson.
4-5 p.m.
Bourne,
Dobridge.
5-6 p.m.
Berwick,
Gray,
Ross,
Smilovitz.

Mr. Mohamm is coaching the members of the club this year, and students who joined are thus assured expert instruction. Some students have been turning out for coaching who are not members. These men have been reminded that everyone is liable for fees after the first two hours of practice. However, all students who have rowed or who are interested in rowing have been invited to attend a few practices to see what progress they are able to make.

Concerning the excursion to the Club House on Saturday afternoon, about 20 members have signified their intention of making the trip, and further names are being received till Thursday night, by Allan Macnaughton, Walnut 1567; John Howie, Walnut 0438, and Dave Logan, West 0797.

The times at which the party will leave and return will be published in Friday morning's Daily, as well as a further schedule of practice hours.

CHEMICAL CLUB HEARD MR. CAMERON

Details in Process of Paper Making Explained

The Chemical Industry Club met for the second time yesterday at 3:30 p. m., when Mr. Cameron of the Forest Products Laboratories, addressed the members on paper making.

Mr. Cameron explained that the function of the laboratory was the study of pulps and paper, and papers produced from hitherto unexploited woods. He then described the various types of pulps indicating for which branches of industry they were best suited. The speaker touched on many considerations in the treatment of the pulp preliminary to its passage over the paper machine. Among these was a description of the beater. This machine combines both a cutting and pressing action on the pulp fibres, and by varying these actions pulps ranging from those suitable for blotting paper to those of bond or parchment papers may be produced.

The paper machine proper was described in detail. The pulp, raised to its proper consistency, is caused to flow through various regulating devices before it passes over the screen. As it passes over this the greater proportion of water is extracted by simple draining, and then by suction. The wet mat is then taken on to a series of felts from which it is transferred to both the pressure and heating effects of steam heated rolls. The dry paper is then passed through a calendar machine to give it its proper finish.

The members then proceeded to the plant where the actual processes described by Mr. Cameron were in operation. The various other departments were visited including both the chemical and microscopic departments. Many members availed themselves of the opportunity of securing a winter's supply of blotting paper which was being manufactured at the time. The president then thanked Mr. Cameron for his kindness in introducing the members to the subject of paper making.

ACTS 6

CLASSES TO ASSIST FEDERATED CHARITIES

The year Presidents met yesterday afternoon in the Union, and decided that the classes be asked as a whole to contribute to the Federated Charities. In order that this might be done systematically, each President will appoint two lieutenants to assist him, and every day the contributions of each year will be posted in the "Daily."

Unfortunately, there was not a full attendance at the meeting, but the matter will be explained to those who were absent, and it is expected that work will be started immediately.

function at 8 o'clock

The Strathcona Hall Orchestra is going to make its debut during the evening. This is a new organization and, according to all reports, consists of a highly talented group of musicians. They have been hard at work recently rehearsing for this special event and several excellent selections have been prepared.

Members of the University Staff have kindly consented to act patrons and will, as usual, do much to make the event a gala affair. The programme will consist, as the name implies, of a goodly number of conversats, intermingled with music and other forms of entertainment. Just what form these diversions will take is not exactly known, but the S. C. A. have promised to uphold their enviable reputation achieved in former years.

During the evening, refreshments are to be served in the new common room and the S. C. A. club room on the second floor.

In this particular field a splendid menu has been prepared. At previous conversats, many hundreds have been entertained, and plans are being made to entertain every freshman, every freshtette, and every other student who has any desire to attend this evening at 8 P. M., at what will undoubtedly be the biggest, best, and most successful conversat in years.

M R. CHURCH, the minister, called in Doctor Dope to treat his wife. When Mrs. Church recovered, Mr. Church asked for his bill, but Dr. Dope did not wish to charge his pastor anything, and so replied:

"I LL TELL you what we'll do. We are supposed to be good in our own line. Now I will keep Mrs. Church out of heaven just as long as I can if you will keep me out of hell as long as you can."

T HE MAN whose study is atoms and ions, who understands differential calculus or knows the difference between Milton and Mah Jong, cannot be expected to be acquainted with the details of food preparation. We are each supposed to be good in our own line.
